Certificate

This is to certify that Mr. Manoj Chippa, Roll No: 160120802033, a student of BTech (Chemical Engineering) from Chaitanya Bharati Institute of Technology (CBIT), has undertaken project work entitled 'Re-verification of an LBM solver for blood flow in a microchannel' under my supervision in the Department of Chemical Engineering, IIT Hyderabad from 12th June 2023 to 14th July 2023, and has successfully completed the same.

During his internship, Manoj reverified an LBM solver developed in C programming language by my MTech student (K Lasya Priya). He did this by reproducing results from each code she had developed earlier for equations of increasing complexity, namely 1D Diffusion, 1D Advection Diffusion, and Navier Stokes equations. He calculated the error percentages with the corresponding FDM codes. Once this was found satisfactory, he obtained results for the 2D Flow of a shear thinning fluid model for blood in a microchannel and verified that the results matched those in the student's thesis.

Manoj is a creative individual who wants to do well in the tasks that are assigned to him. His communication skills are reasonably good. He works (very) well individually, and in a group (which includes other interns and graduate students). In the short time that I observed him, I felt his greatest strength was his can-do attitude and his ability to use resources efficiently to make steady progress toward the results. I enjoyed having him in my group and wish him all success in his future endeavors.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.
