Outcome Of “FUTURE FORWARD”

At our 'Future Forward' event, our institute counselor, serving as the resource person, engaged with the final year students in an interactive session aimed at providing valuable insights into various aspects of personal and professional development. The session was structured with a PowerPoint presentation, during which students were presented with thought-provoking questions. Each participant received a sheet to answer the questions from a standardized personality test, covering areas such as decision-making, social preferences (e.g., leaving a party early or staying late), and personality traits (introversion vs. extroversion).

Through this activity, students were encouraged to reflect on their own preferences, values, and decision-making processes. By actively participating in the exercise, they had the opportunity to self-assess and calculate their responses, gaining a deeper understanding of themselves. The interactive nature of the session facilitated open discussions among the students, allowing them to share perspectives and insights.

The anticipated outcomes of this activity include increased self-awareness, improved decision-making skills, and a better understanding of personal preferences and traits. By engaging in this reflective exercise, students not only gained insights into their own behavior but also acquired valuable tools for navigating future challenges and making informed decisions. Overall, the event aimed to empower students with a sense of direction and self-confidence as they prepare to transition into the next phase of their lives.
