Agenda Item -2: Any other item with the permission of the Chair:

- The chairman of anti-ragging committee emphasized the critical importance of maintaining a ragging-free campus environment. He stressed that even interactions between senior students and freshers would be considered as ragging, and severe punishments would be awarded to those found guilty.
- As the class work is set to begin on 04.09.2023, the Heads of Departments (HoDs) along with the class teachers were directed to visit all 2nd, 3rd, and final year classes within their respective departments. During these visits, they are to explain to the students the distress that freshers experience when subjected to ragging and announce the serious consequences of being caught in any ragging activities.
- The Director of Student Affairs and Progression was instructed to promptly send the format of Anti-ragging affidavits to all HoDs. HoDs, in turn, are responsible for collecting signed affidavits from all students by 06.09.2023.
- The incharge of the first year was given clear instructions to maintain vigilance, ensuring that even minor incidents related to ragging are not neglected.

- A vehicle arrangement was made every day at 4.50 PM by the Transport Incharge to monitor the surrounding areas for any suspicious activities.
- The Director of Student Affairs and Progression was directed to arrange for the publication of banners on the institute's website to raise awareness about anti-ragging measures.
- Departments were given freedom to assign anti-ragging duty from 4.30 PM to 6.00 PM to non-teaching staff (excluding attenders). However, it was stressed that the portion of non-teaching staff assigned to this duty should not exceed 50% of the total staff allocated.
- Additionally, it was emphasized that lady faculty members of the Anti-Ragging Committee should be readily available to address any grievances from female students regarding ragging incidents.

The committee members expressed their commitment to creating a safe and ragging-free campus environment for all students, and the chairman thanked everyone for their dedication to this important cause.
