2. Inventions

- (a) Assignment of Inventions. As between the Company and myself, I agree that all right, title, and interest in and to any and all copyrightable material, notes, records, drawings, designs, inventions, improvements, developments, discoveries, ideas, concepts, trademarks, and trade secrets, whether or not patentable or registrable under patent, copyright or similar laws, conceived, discovered, authored, invented, developed or reduced to practice by me, solely or in collaboration with others, during the period of time I am in the employ of the Company (including during my off-duty hours), or with the use of the Company’s equipment, supplies, facilities, or Company Confidential Information, and any copyrights, patents, trade secrets, mask work rights or other intellectual property rights relating to the foregoing, except as provided in Section 2(e) below (collectively, “Inventions”), are the sole property of the Company. I also agree to promptly make full written disclosure to the Company of any Inventions and to deliver to the Company or its designee all of my right, title and interest in and to the Inventions. I also hereby irrevocably assign fully to the Company or its designee all of my right, title and interest in and to Inventions, except as prohibited by the laws of India and as otherwise set forth in Section 2(e) below. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 19(4) of the Copyright Act, 1957, I agree that such assignment in so far as it relates to copyrightable material shall not lapse nor the rights transferred therein revert to me, even if the Company does not exercise the rights under the assignment within a period of one year from the date of assignment. I further acknowledge and agree that I shall waive any right to and shall not raise any objection or claims to the Copyright Board with respect to the assignment, pursuant to Section 19A of the Copyright Act, 1957. I further acknowledge that all original works of authorship that are made by me (solely or jointly with others) within the scope of and during the period of my employment with the Company and that are protectable by copyright are “works made for hire,” as that term is defined in the United States Copyright Act and Indian Copyright Act, 1957. I understand and agree that the decision whether or not to commercialize or market any Inventions is within the Company’s sole discretion and for the Company’s sole benefit, and that no royalty or other consideration will be due to me as a result of the Company’s efforts to commercialize or market any such Inventions.
- (b) Pre-Existing Materials. I will not incorporate any inventions, discoveries, ideas, original works of authorship, developments, improvements, trade secrets and other proprietary information or intellectual property rights owned by me or in which I have an interest prior to, or separate from, my employment with the Company (“Prior Inventions”) into any Invention or otherwise utilize any such Prior Invention in the course of my employment with the Company. If I incorporate any such material owned by me or in which I have any interest prior to, or separate from, my employment with the Company, I hereby grant to Google LLC a nonexclusive, royalty-free, fully-paid, irrevocable, perpetual, transferable worldwide license (with the right to grant and authorize sublicenses) to make, have made, use, import, offer for sale, sell, reproduce, distribute, modify, adapt, prepare derivative works of, display, perform, and otherwise exploit such Prior Inventions, without restriction, including, without limitation, as part of or in connection with such Invention, and to practice any method related thereto. I will not incorporate any inventions, discoveries, ideas, original works of authorship, developments, improvements, trade secrets and other proprietary information or intellectual property rights owned by any third party into any Invention or otherwise utilize any such Prior Invention in the course of my employment with the Company without Google LLC’s prior written permission. I have attached hereto as Exhibit A, a list describing all Prior Inventions or, if no such list is attached, I represent and warrant that there are no such Prior Inventions. Furthermore, I represent and warrant that if any Prior Inventions are included on Exhibit A, they will not materially affect my ability to perform all obligations under this Agreement.

- (c) Maintenance of Records. I agree to keep and maintain adequate, current, accurate, and authentic written records of all Inventions made by me (solely or jointly with others) during the term of my employment with the Company. The records will be in the form of notes, sketches, drawings, electronic files, reports, or any other format that may be specified by the Company. The records are and will be available to and remain the sole property of the Company at all times.
- (d) Patent and Copyright Registrations. I agree to assist the Company, or its designee, at the Company’s expense, in every proper way to secure the Company’s rights in the Inventions in any and all countries, including the disclosure to the Company of all pertinent information and data with respect thereto, the execution of all applications, specifications, oaths, assignments and all other instruments which the Company will deem proper or necessary in order to apply for, register, obtain, maintain, defend, and enforce such rights and in order to deliver, assign and convey to the Company, its successors, assigns, and nominees the sole and exclusive rights, title and interest in and to such Inventions, and testifying in a suit or other proceeding relating to such Inventions and any rights relating thereto. I further agree that my obligations under this Section 2(d) will continue after the termination of this Agreement. If the Company is unable because of my unavailability, mental or physical incapacity or for any other reason to secure my signature with respect to any Inventions including, without limitation, to apply for or to pursue any application for any United States or foreign patents or mask work or copyright registrations covering such Inventions assigned to the Company or its designee in Section 2(a), then I hereby irrevocably designate and appoint the Company and its duly authorized officers and agents as my agent and attorney in fact, to act for and in my behalf and stead to execute and file any papers, oaths and to do all other lawfully permitted acts with respect to such Inventions to further the prosecution and issuance of patents, copyright and mask work registrations with the same legal force and effect as if executed by me. This power of attorney will be considered coupled with an interest, and will be irrevocable.
- (e) Exception to Assignments. I understand that the provisions of this Agreement requiring disclosure and assignment of Inventions to the Company do not apply to any invention that I have developed entirely on my own time without using any of the Company’s property (including, but not limited, to the Company’s Electronic Media Systems), equipment (including, but not limited, to the Company’s Electronic Media Equipment), supplies, facilities, trade secret information or Company Confidential Information, except for those inventions that either (i) relate at the time of conception or reduction to practice of the invention to the Company’s business, or actual or demonstrably anticipated research or development of the Company or (ii) result from any work or services that I performed for the Company. I will advise the Company promptly in writing of any inventions that I believe meet the foregoing criteria and not otherwise disclosed on Exhibit A for an ownership determination in confidence.

- (e) Compliance. I understand and agree that I have no reasonable expectation of privacy in any property, including, but not limited to, documents, Electronic Media Equipment or Electronic Media Systems, that is used to conduct the business of the Company. I understand that I am not permitted to add any unlicensed, unauthorized or non-compliant applications to any Company property, including, but not limited to, Company Electronic Media Equipment or Company Electronic Media Systems, and that I will refrain from copying unlicensed software onto such Company property or using non-licensed software or web sites. I understand that it is my responsibility to comply with the Company’s policies governing use of the Company’s documents, Electronic Media Equipment and Electronic Media Systems to which I will have access in connection with my employment.

Appendix B: Google Employee Privacy Policy

Who needs to read this policy

All Googlers and those working at, or employed by, Google affiliates that do not have separate employee privacy policies.

Purpose

At Google, we recognize that privacy is important. This policy describes how Google collects and uses Employee Data. The policy also applies to Google affiliates but excludes those affiliates that have separate employee privacy policies. For ease of reference, Google and the affiliates covered by this privacy policy are referred to as "Google" (and our staff are referred to as "Googlers") throughout this policy. For purposes of this policy, Employee Data means any information that identifies a Googler or that can be used to identify a Googler in the context of employment.

This policy applies regardless of the format, media or source of the Employee Data. It applies both to Employee Data provided by the Googler and information generated as a result of being recruited by, applying to, and working at Google, including, but not limited to the following:

Recruitment information, for example:

- application and interview records;
- resumes or CVs;
- references;
- background check information.

Personal details, for example:

- contact info (home address, telephone number and personal email address);
- bank (direct deposit) details;
- government identification numbers, such as social security numbers;
- emergency contacts and family composition;
- demographic information.

Performance, Compensation & Benefits information, for example:

- performance ratings, evaluations, and assessments;
- equity awards or stock;
- pension and other insurance documentation;
- payroll details;
- vacation records;
- working time records.

Working at Google, for example:

- survey data;
- disciplinary investigations/meetings/records and grievances;
- security records, such as badging records and security recordings;
- logs records;
- your use of Google equipment, accounts and systems, including google.com apps, etc.

Details

Here are some additional details about the Employee Data Google may collect and how we may use it:

- Employee Data will be collected and used for employment-related or legal purposes, such as (1) recruitment and staffing; (2) compensation, benefit programs and payroll; (3) performance assessment, management and training; (4) talent management and succession planning; (5) employee surveys (6) legal compliance and risk management; (7) workplace management, including Google business-related travel; (8) to protect Google, its users, customers, workforce, equipment and facilities and the public against injury, theft, legal liability, fraud, or abuse; (9) to identify, report on and investigate violations of company policies and/or applicable laws and regulations, (10) to administer background checks in countries where permitted; (11) for business management and planning, including business re-organizations and job eliminations, business transfers and potential divestments; (12) making decisions about your employment; (13) monitoring of product and tool usage, including to identify training needs, solicit feedback and using data to drive the adoption of new versions of products and tools and (14) for other reasonable business-related or legal purposes including, without limitation, testing of Google or a trusted partner's products and services (e.g., Dogfooding).
- In some circumstances, Google may collect sensitive Employee Data, such as information related to confidential medical facts, racial or ethnic origins, trade union membership, political or religious beliefs, or sexual orientation. We will only process sensitive Employee Data in the limited circumstances where permitted by law. For example, we may process medical or health information to administer sick pay, manage workplace accidents, to assess fitness for work, for insurance purposes and to comply with health and safety obligations. Also, we may have access to information about your sexual orientation if, for example, you register a domestic partner of the same or opposite gender for dependent benefits. Google may also use sensitive Employee Data as part of our commitments to diversity and inclusion at Google.
- Your privacy matters, and Google takes appropriate steps to ensure that Employee Data is processed and stored securely. Google restricts collection of and access to Employee Data to those Google entities or Google affiliated units and employees of Google who may need to collect or access such data to carry out their assigned employment-related functions. This may include collection or access as necessary for business-related and legal purposes. It is important to note, however, that nothing in this policy limits any rights a Googler may have (in their personal capacity) to share contact information and/or otherwise communicate about pay, hours, or other terms and conditions of working at Google with fellow employees or non-employees (including government agencies or officials).
- Your Employee Data may be made available to other Google affiliates beyond your direct employer, for example if you are working with or seconded to another Google affiliate, or where an affiliate is acting as a service provider. From time to time, we may also need to disclose Employee Data beyond Google and its affiliates. Such disclosures may be made where appropriate for business-related and legal purposes. This may include, for example, disclosure to insurers, legal advisers, payroll providers, background check agencies, and/or government agencies for the purpose of complying with mandatory reporting requirements.
- Google requires that any third parties, including Temps, Vendors and Contractors, to whom it discloses Employee Data to process on Google's behalf (1) use that information only as directed by Google, (2) protect that information in accordance with applicable data protection regulations and (3) refrain from any further disclosures not authorized by Google.
- Google will take reasonable steps to ensure that Employee Data is relevant to its intended use, accurate, complete, and current. In addition, Google takes reasonable precautions to protect Employee Data from loss, misuse and unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration and destruction.
- Your Employee Data will be kept for as long as it is needed for the purposes above. Your employment record will generally be maintained for the period of your employment. When you leave Google, we will keep your employment record including as needed to protect us from legal claims and to satisfy our legal and compliance obligations. The retention period may depend on the local law in the country in which you were employed.
- In certain countries, Googlers have the right to request access, or request correction, amendment or deletion of certain Employee Data that Google holds and uses in relation to them. You should let Google know if Employee Data in your employee records is inaccurate or incomplete; Google will correct, amend, or delete inaccurate or incomplete information in countries where legally obliged to do so, in accordance with the requirements of applicable law. Accordingly, there may be circumstances where we are not able to comply with your request. In some countries, exceptions to your right to access may include the following: (1) confidential or proprietary Employee Data, such as that involved in talent planning or business re-organizations; (2) where disclosure would violate the privacy rights of other persons; (3) ongoing investigations of malfeasance or wrong-doing, where disclosure would compromise the investigation; and (4) where disclosure would prejudice the interests of Google because of litigation or potential litigation in which Google or a Google affiliate is involved.

- Google operates globally and therefore may process Employee Data outside the country or region where the data is originally collected or where you are located, including in countries where you may have fewer rights in respect of your information than you do in your country of residence. Employee Data may be processed by Google LLC in the United States or Google affiliates and service providers acting on Google's behalf outside of your country of employment.
- You should direct questions or concerns about the handling of your Employee Data to peopleops-help@google.com who will investigate the concern promptly. Where applicable, if you wish to exercise your right of access, please email hrdatarequest@google.com
- Depending on your country of residence or employment, you may also raise any questions or concerns you have regarding your personal information with your local data protection authority.

Hello! We are delighted to offer you a position with Google, and we hope you'll decide to join us. As you're thinking about starting your job with us, we want to remind you of a few things that may not be at the top of your mind.

Google provides workplace adjustments/accommodations to employees with disabilities. For more information, please reach out to candidate-help@google.com.

Please be mindful of any agreements you may have with your former employer about non-competition, trade secrets, or confidential information. This also includes non-solicitation obligations.

Please also consider whether your personal investments or business relationships are consistent with the conflict of interest provisions of Google's Code of Conduct.

A. Non-Competition Obligations, Prior Employers' Trade Secrets and Confidential Information

You need to ensure that you are not prevented from accepting an offer or working for Google due to any restrictions (e.g., non-competition agreement, confidential information obligations, or other restrictive provisions). Read through any documents you may have signed with your current or prior employers to see if such clauses exist. If you accept an offer of employment, we expect you to be clear with us about any areas or projects in which you should not work for some period of time or indefinitely if you are prohibited due to confidential information obligations or, non-competition provisions.

If you have any questions about anything you might be asked to do in your new job and how it might impact your obligations to a previous or current employer, please let your recruiter know as soon as possible. We will try to change assignments or otherwise address any such issues before they become a problem for you. Your obligations regarding confidential and trade secret information don't end when your employment with your previous employer ends.

If you decide to accept an offer with us, please take reasonable steps to ensure that you are not continuing to be exposed to confidential or trade secret information at your current employer. We don't want your company to wonder if you were viewing or hearing information with plans of sharing with Google. This applies even if you haven't formally accepted or shared your decision with your employer.

Don't take materials in any format from your previous employer unless they are completely personal in nature. This includes electronic or hardcopy documents. It includes lists of contacts, clients, and suppliers, if that information isn't otherwise publicly available or commonly known. Sending emails or documents to a personal email account with the intent of then forwarding them on to your new Google email address or copying them/downloading them onto your Google machines is simply not okay with us, and we feel confident that your previous employer won't like it either! Also, don't destroy any documents or files belonging to your previous employer unless you have their agreement to do so.

If you're subject to a non-solicitation provision, please read it carefully and follow it for the period required. Please advise any former co-workers who contact you that you're unable to pass along their information.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding any of this information, please reach out to your recruiter.

B. Conflicts of Interest

Google's Code of Conduct cautions its employees to avoid conflict of interest situations. A conflict of interest occurs when, because of your role at Google, you are in a position to influence a decision or situation that may result in personal gain for you or your friends or family at the expense of the company or our users. A conflict of interest can occur under a variety of situations, including:

- If a Googler also works for or invests in a company that is a Google customer, supplier, partner, or competitor.
- If a Googler's close friend or family member has, or works for a company that has, a business relationship with Google and the Googler's job puts him or her in a position to influence that relationship.

The key to resolving any potential conflict of interest is disclosure and generally the earlier the disclosure the better. Please take a read through our Code of Conduct, which can be found by clicking "About Google" and looking on the "Investor Relations" page of the site. Let your recruiter know as soon as possible whether you think a current situation might create a conflict of interest if you accept a job at Google.

C. Community Guidelines

At Google, we think of our values as how we conduct ourselves in the pursuit of our mission. Values are not to be led by some and followed by others; they are to be owned personally by each of us and collectively by all of us. They are at heart, a balance of trust extended and responsibility accepted. We call them the three Google values which can be found in the website under "Community Guidelines": (1) Respect the user; (2) Respect the opportunity; and (3) Respect each other. When you join Google, you agree to abide by and to conduct yourself according to the three Google values and Google's Code of Conduct (how we work day to day within our values).

Thanks, and again, we look forward to welcoming you to Google!
